

It is the attitude and commitment that makes a REAL real estate professional.

REIV Members make a REAL difference

While all agents must be appropriately qualified and licensed to work in the sector, REIV Members go beyond the basics. Members make a commitment to continuous learning, improvement, and development not just for themselves but also towards the wider real estate sector.

People who join the REIV choose to make a difference in their careers, for themselves, their communities and the profession; commencing a journey to help build a stronger more sustainable property sector.

"The Difference" is in the continuing professional development (CPD), in the contribution to sector wide progress through REIV advocacy initiatives, sharing of market data and insights and the commitment to upholding high integrity standards.

is about Members who make a real difference in real estate.

Choose with confidence

The REIV cross checks and validates the real estate qualifications, licensing requirements and employment of each applicant before they are accepted as a Member.

This means that you can be confident that you are dealing with someone who meets the necessary legislated requirements to practice real estate in Victoria.

All Member businesses are required to maintain Professional Indemnity Insurance, giving their clients an additional level of protection.

Committed to excellence

Continual Professional Development is a requirement of REIV membership.

Members have access to training and learning opportunities to always stay up to date with the latest, especially in relation to property legislation and compliance.

REIV Members have a host of opportunities to upskill, whether it's through structured training programs or interactive learning through seminars, competitions and peer networking.

Informed and supported

Members have access to a range of reliable resources such as accurate market data and insights, compliant documentation, dedicated Information Officers, regular news and updates, fact sheets and more.

A suite of tools and resources to ensure that REIV Members are supported with the right information and guidance to assist clients in their real estate journey.

As Victoria's peak real estate body since 1936, we understand the significance of property in your life, which is why we focus on developing and supporting real estate professionals who can help make these decisions easier for you. We make sure that our Members are well equipped with the right knowledge, resources and tools to give you professional advice and service that protects your interests.
